but for you or anyone else who wants to debug the program; here are the changes I made to get the sources to compile and link on OS4 native hardware:

:) I already build it of course and trying to debug as you can see above, just without luck. That why i upload stuff to make os4 version compiles, so someone like Xenic who is known to deal with hardcore bugs can fix it :)

You may just run binary, waiting when it crashes, and debug crash till death :) once it will be fixed probably all other stuff will works.
