If i remember correctly the version i have was the one compiled by HunoPPC for his Warp3D "GUI" project ... it should be based on an interim revision of 2.23 from the official repo, so not the very latest

I read that you are still trying to compile the very latest build now, maybe i can retry with the latest official build as soon as you release it, so eventually we can see if the bug i have on this SDL1 demo is an "official" bug or if it was just the interim version of MiniGL compiled by Huno to be blamed
