I'd love to upgrade; but I haven't found a passively cooled option with the newer cards.

There used to be a passively-cooled, Polaris-based Radeon RX 460 model but it's been phased out.

I, too, was sceptical about getting a fan-cooled card (all my previous gfx boards had been passive, so I got used to silent operation), but then a friend recommended Sapphire's 45W model of the Radeon RX560, and I was surprised by how quiet it is.
