The only thing that I saw is that the images open in Workbench screen, but the texts open in DOpus screen.

It is only matter of default settings for filetypes: go to Settings/Filetype menu, there choice Picture, then there double-click on "double-click" entry, you will have new window spawn, in which will be : AmigaDOS Multiview {f}.

You need to change that on Multiview {f} pubscreen {Qs} , and it will open images on the cloned dopus5 screen, but not on workbench one.

Probabaly i need to make it like this be default for dopus5 releases for all oses : for "replaced" version it will cause no differences, but for "cloned" one it will works better.
