I'm sure Andy is doing his best to provide good software. In this case, I don't think the logviewer datatype as been used enough to bring the problems to light until now.

I tried to update my Multiviewer with the Enhancer "Update" utility but I just get a message stating that it's not found on the server. Has anyone else been able to get the latest version with Update? I currently have v2.12 and Update says the latest version is v2.14.
