I don't know if CodeBench overrides it, but by default richeditor uses:

env:classes/gadgets/richeditor/default.kbd for keybindings. Its a straightforward XML file, and you can define multiple bindings to one action. If you change it, remember to copy it to envarc: to make it permanent.

But as I said, I don't know if CodeBench uses this file or overrides it with interal bindings.
