If you tweak the workbench so that the mui (magicwb) colors are right and then open another screen where the mui-colors are not right then go to screens in prefs and add the new screen then set everything to "like workbench" and "always".

Edit: reformulated the first part.

Hmm, seems that those 5bit screens are white, so i have set the MultiView screen to use 32bit and "always" in prefs/screens and now it displays the colors right.
