

Subject: : TuneNet

Topic: : Streaming options where & how

Re: Streaming options where & how

Author: : Kicko

Date: : 2010/3/3 17:52:41

URL:

I have never saved a playlist myself myself. What i do is after i listened to the stream i quit tunenet and start tunenet again and the playlist will be there. If im not wrong the file "tn_deflist.m3u" is the default playlist. So if you want to save you can probably overwrite that file or just like me, quit tunenet and then reload. Tunenet probably uses autosave on exit i think.

But then you can save your own playlist files. Just name them what you want and then load the one you want to use "open playlist" in window.

Its pretty basic stuff :)