I'm using sh 52.1 (2007-01-07), coreutils 6.7.2 (2007-01-04).

I'll try those later versions, but if abc-shell "can't find" the file under its nose, it can't be a bug in the file contents.

It could be a problem with coreutils (if it is still not working with the new files, please try with the older version of coreutils - I have not got much response about the testversion of coreutils)
