Someone already suggested a fresh port of poppler + Reaction GUI.

There is a lot of way and suggestions. Who will do that ? When ? How fast ? Will it have bugs which will need years to be addressed ?

Even the re-use of AmiPDF GUI might be possible.

Who will give anyone AmiPDF GUI source code ? Will authors of AmiPDF worry about all of this at all ? Is he is still alive and in interest ?

I.e. million questions, suggestions and problems with resources and time. While VPDF free, its here, and need to be "just" ported.

I'd much rather contribute money to this (heck, I could even help out with the GUI programming). Plus, having a native libpoppler would enable the development of other PDF-related applications.

Sounds good. Point me plz on that person who will start to works on it and when he will finish it (with or without ~~help from anyone). Its of course rhetoric and sarcastic, because we all know amiga realms.~~

While VPDF is here. Just need to be ported. And then anyone can again jump on hold and suggest to make a new pdf viewer, maybe, someday, if someone will find out time :)
