Yes i mean that one, i don't understand why they add such a crap since if you look "below" the stripes you can read exactly the same text on the normal titlebar (except the clock/calendar)

Because it was enough for os3, same as low-color icons. Should be easy to fix anyway. The real hardcore its icons : there will need to do everything right (i personally hope that Itix will not loose motivation till that moment, and will be able to deal with).
