Yes it was that, thank you
I had rebooted AFTER to have maunched it one time.

I have recovered all my usual environment.

As I have installed twice CodeBench, now it asked me each time to create an account in CodeBench community.

If I recreate the same account, it failed of course,

If I ignore it, it come back next time.

I encountered some freezes when I typed some special character, now, no more problem, that is very good !
