Binary should be small in any case, just for more or less fast loading: 50-60mb is already not small, but as far as i see morphos version of 1.23 with mediaplayer are 53mb of size, so should be 60mb max for os4 version.

@ddni

Need to deal with libicu now (and maybe some other libs will need rebuilding with mlongcall as well), as well as deal with ffmpeg to have it really 5mb of size, as well as deal with mediaplayer after binary will links and usuall os4 specific parts will be fixed.
