When Chris Young asked me to file a bug report some time ago, he sent me to <http://www.netsurf-browser.org> and not the Netsurf Sourceforge project.

You could be right. I could not remember where to put feature requests, but had that SourceForge page bookmarked. I wasn't sure if I'd put in a feature request for a password manager (I think I had but not sure).

But... I can't find anywhere to request features on the site you mentioned. Bug reporting yes, feature requests no :(
