Because of time reasons there is no progress since my last post above. The fix is still uncomplete, but if you send me a mail address, I can send you the current display libraries. It is good enough for working with AmiCygrix, but there are some minor gfx problems left.

BTW: The problem is not FE, it's because newer gfx cards do only support low endian gfx data.

I know, I should publish this patch on os4-depot. Hope I will find some time next week.
