Something tells me the 5040 version will not come soon, meaning the current 5020 will be it for a while... I would bet some need to sell first before the whole 5040 comes in the picture.

I could be wrong but I also wanted a 5040 but having seen this exact question asked already, and no responses for it, I decided to buy the current X5K they are now selling.

I figured this was the system for 2017 and we won't see the 5040 for a bit. Again, I could be way off but...
