Imho you need to forward your findings about missing characters to Thore (as they depend on mui settings), maybe he will help us out with it. And on your screenshot you still missing those default images ! quite strange ..

Sadly i can't reproduce it here :(For me those missing images was the same as for you, then, after sets of "reset to default" and some test-debug-vesions from Thore, they appears back, and i was think it is fixed in latest mui, but seems there is something settings related still.

edit: tried with spacing, with different font, with different styles: still images here all the time, and still can't make missing "n".. Will try with "Italian" language now, but i have the same issue in mui before with my default (english) language too.
