Sure q3 is slower without CVA everywhere..

What i mean, is that for others renderers (ogles2, gl4es) name spelled correctly, without extra "s", and probably will be better to not do just "#ifdef __amigaos4__", as that minigl only fix, will broke gl4es and ogles2 versions to not have CVA at all, and being disabled , even if you enable it in config. There instead should be something like "#if defened amigaos4 and defined minigl", so when anyone will compile your version over ogles2 renderer, or opengl2 one, that minigl only fix will have no place.
