I have the Elgato HD60S, I some time have problems with sound being a little behind when recording and when Amiga OS switches resolutions, it can course some problems.

Also as you say needs USB3, so did go and buy a USB3 controller for my PC.

Sadly my PC does not always register the Elgato, so I have to unplug and plug-it back in.

One more thing when ElgatoHD is connected between the Amiga and the monitor, it needs the PC for power, so no screen unless the PC is turned on as well.
