Hi orgin,

just a quick question.

How would i change a password on a file that is already uploaded.

i.e. an update arrives and i want to change the password.

If i type in a new one, you will always be alerted because the password is wrong and i don't really want to annoy you too much, but how else would one do that?

Can i put a comment to the upload to change the password to the one i chose or tell you that the password has changed?

The reminder eMail that something is wrong will always be sent to the original uploader anyway, correct?
