

Subject: : AmigaOS4

Topic: : MPlayer-GUI mickJT-MPlayer <http://> what is it for?

MPlayer-GUI mickJT-MPlayer <http://> what is it for?

Author: : white

Date: : 2018/12/1 16:18:50

URL:

Hi,

I tried the new MPlayer-GUI version with mickJT-MPlayer working very well, thanks for your work.

I know that I do not use a real amiga, so I try to make what's possible with winuae.

A real amiga machine still has high costs.

I wanted to ask the http: // option in the MPlayer-GUI what is it for?

I tried to insert a youtube link to see a video but it does not seem to work, the video is not opened, I'm missing something or its function is different, thanks for every answer.

I also use SMTube which works very well, but I wanted to know if the function http: // in MPlayer-GUI has a similar function or is this not its function? do I have to insert a particular string like with YT.rexx or something else?

Thank you.