I would like to have an amiga, at the moment unfortunately this is not possible.

even if you do not need it, you'll probably have tried with the old qt.

With qt.minimal with winuae you should not have any problems with SMTube I then used this to make it work libxml2.lha <--- libxml2.so.11 for SMTube

probably this was solved with the new versions

At the moment the qt applications also work the qt browser works but it is slow.

Thanks again for your advice and your answers.

I also understand that using winuae is not like using a real amiga.

so I hope to always find some advice even if I do not have a real amiga. Thank you smtube now works for download
