It is somewhat sad but I will give the benefit of the doubt. Hopefully someone from ACube will see my request from here. I wished they would make the purchase available via other means if they do not wish to continue to sell it. I was going to purchase earlier but there were some having problems with it so I was going to see how it all panned out before buying, meanwhile I upgraded to X5000. Just refurbishing and playing with my SAM now. Amazing how much you forget in a couple of years!
