So I'm looking at this is a bit more detail.

Important thigs to note:

UPDATE does not update the current notification, rather it clears all existing notificatins and adds a new one, this is "clearly" described in the docs.

When PERCENTAGE is used it does actually appear to update the existing wincow, which is why the window doesn't change size. UPDATE is being ignored in this context , maybe the ARexx should throw an error if both are present not sure.
