Monitor is only to allow users who haven't contributed to the thread to monitor the bug, all other users get updated.

The email issue is at your end as far as I can tell, perhaps you can email your tech support and ask why emails from the site get rejected?

Whether the back button retains the input content largely depends on the browser. OWB is erratic in this respect.

I personally don't like this version of mantis as much as the previous one, it relies much too much on fonts containing non alpha numeric glyphs and the colour usage was much clearer before, but hey ho. Generally though once you get used to it it's easier than bugzilla.
