They correspond to the '<' and '>' keys. AS they are menu short cuts they are not customisable for the moment.

No it doesn't this is by design.

Oh, then pgup/pgdown its the same as "space" for go through files.

These operate on the file list in MultiViewer

But if i disable directory scanning, disable file-lister, and then dbl-click on test file, probabaly then, pgup/pgdown may work for navigate over document ? (as there will be no other files to navigate over them)
