Would you maybe have time to update your canary and malloc_hack patch to the latest source?

I applied them and neither do i get into the game nor does it log any canaries (the database in ram: is always empty).

I'm in contact with the engine author and so far we found absolutely nothing which could cause the crash, even the debug logs on his and my computer are exactly the same, until i crash suddenly.

We could need any pointers we can get.

Thank you
