Yeah, seems you not only one have that issue, on os4coding one dev found the same:

seem unfortunately bintools doesn't build properly in x86_64, so you need to use the 32-bit MSYS2 tools to build. This problem comes up because in the i686 world, long and long long are the same size, but in the x86_64 world, long long is larger than long.

Not sure how to fix it all easy (and not sure if need to bother now), with cygwin you will have no issues.

Just wait few hours more and i will put article online
