About color issues: some good news, our SDL out of question. Another developer do check it on his PowerMac G4, with Linux PPC on it, and he have exactly the same issues 1:1 on the same video modes. See :

Just by some luck (or unluck), author of PPC JIT on Wii and his own SDL didn't have those issues. Or maybe he not very well understand them, or maybe he do something in his SDL for as well, dunno.

The point that if LinuxPPC have the same issues, then our SDL ports out of question, phew ! Sorry for bother with it then! :)
