Then don't get a Polaris for now, because there is no classic Warp3D support for those cards at all and only unstable hacky MiniGL support via MiniGL4GL4ES at the moment!

I'd recommend the Sapphire R7 250 2GB DDR5: full 3D support, performance more than good enough for everything on AOS4 (and there will certainly be another extra boost once we got DMA/GART), pretty silent. I have that one installed in three systems here (X5000, Tabor and sam460ex), very satisfied with those!

Only problem: may be hard to find by now 😊
