The Quest has been great. Kept me busy all winter. In my area we are barely affected. Some are doing self quarantine, but not mandatory.

I have not done any programming recently. I am kind of weird about that: you would think I would do more in the winter, but I do more in the spring/summer. So I will get back into it soon.

I don't intend to make it a full IDE like Jamie is doing, but simple key press to compile from a makefile is planned. Maybe more stuff down the road.

Thanks for the continued interest.
