But, i did :-/

It's not even working on a fresh page, just do the below and "preview" it, it goes far beyond the right border out of sight and everything else will vanish with it. I'm writing along to get a long enough line to show off that i cannot see what i was writing unless i scroll down, move the horizontal slider and scroll back up again.

For me and my set window size the text is cut off after "writing", maybe your window is bigger in size than mine?

edit:

Also this long [code] piece seem to trigger another bug with the avatar entries of all the posters before this post.

The size of the entries gets pulled to the right.

Another little bug 😊
