I just added new thing on bottom, and fix the older strings on the place where they were. Its just seems indeed too much hassle at the moment to do it like i want before, and to be honest i never liked all those translations and spending that much time on. Besides knowing amiga users i am sure if i will add it as i wish (in the middle, increase versions, so no old catalogs will be used, doing it all on my side, etc, etc) there will be issues and reports about.

So at least for now there will be just updated OWB.cd and everyone can translate what and when they wish :) Maybe for some final version when it will be about going to os4depot like 1.24 or something, we can resturcutre it all, and create all new CTs and increse numbers etc, but for now it just as it was : updated OWB.cd
