Thanks, I was trying various things with the GUI surely I changed a lot of options and it didn't work, I restored the backup copy now everything works normally this version is more up to date than the one attached to the amigaos4.1FE CD.

I noticed that Dopus does not block copying of files while there are other programs running.

This is useful for my system I have to patiently understand its functions and scripts eventually to be used and how to implement it in the system.

Thanks also for your latest version of aiostreams 😊
