Thanks for the suggestion, I tried the application you recommended, I find dopus more immediate at the moment.

However, I will return to the application suggested by you to try several times to see any benefits.

I have reached an excellent configuration I'm happy with it being amigaos enthusiast the system works without any crash.

I bought the ztools software enhancers because it is right to support the work dedicated to 4.1FE and I would say that everything works really well after configuring everything well.

Now I dedicate myself to the aesthetic side and to the integration of all useful applications.

I don't own a real amiga but my spirit towards amigaos hasn't changed. 😊

I believe this video demonstrates the stability and speed of the system

Thanks again.
