Interesting on what parts OS4 splits.

I mean, what components exactly coming to Hyperion? As of late, they got rights to "Reaction", but it just a name probably or just some set of classes coming by default with os4.

Then p96 I remember too. But as of late, it ditched anyway, and keeping only for backward compatibility inside of graphics.library.

There is also: Workbench, DOS, graphics, set of modules to load (drivers and stuff), Sirion for USB, AmiDock, AmigaInput, lot of other components anyway, with authors of which there probably some agreement for a long period and which they can't sell for time being.
