new_common.txt should be used when one wants to add a new Common tab. It could be an internal string too but this way it's easier to customize.

But common part always different in all shaders (at least with shadertoy), some of them just had a bunch of defines, without functions, etc.

Or you mean that just for an easier way to made own shader than using shadertoy ones ?:) But then it placed in "ShaderToy" directory, meaning it for "ShaderToy"?
