Well interestingly enough the latest WHDLoad just crashes hard with a DSI. So I upgraded E-UAE to the 1.0 of os4depot. Still crashes. So I figure let me just boot into 3.1 and mess around. It too locks up. Now interesting with the 3.1 I can "Amiga-M" to switch back to OS4.1. Logs don't indicate anything. I have serial debugger attached as well don't see anything.

There is something on my configure that it doesn't like the question now to track down what it is.

My thought now is to make a clean boot partition as I have plenty of unused space and start adding things. That is going to take some time to set up as its been a while and I really would hate to mess up.

If I remember correctly I can just boot from the Final Edition Install CD. Download the update and install the graphics drivers from the Enhancer.

Need to balance goofing around with various projects.

Regards

Doug
