I got fed up and packed it away, so no idea what to do, and A-eon isn't really helping much. Trevor asked me to do a lot of what you all said, and its not changed anything.

I'm really sorry to hear that - must be a frustrating experience 😞

Given the price of the X5000, it should go without saying that the sales of the machine be coupled with top-notch service. Otherwise the platform will lose all credibility and we'll get no new users.
