In update2 there was a bit of SDK update just for those for want manually update some bits. I.e. no fresh SDK, just something which better than nothing. There you can find in update2 what is important enough:

- 1). updated SDK for DOS (as it quite massively improved)
- 2). updates to pthread library (some critical bugs were fixed)
- 3). updates to newlib (with lots of fixes from Frederik)

Also some "C" tools (mostly for new DOS and to help developer stuff for, but also few others, check SDK/C). And that all. MUI and MiniGL SDK also included, but that nothing to worry about they all publicly online for those who need them.

I do not know if a new SDK is in plans. Hope so.

A publicly accessible archive with just this Update 2 "SDK" directory would be useful for now.
