I see

..so, is Ringhio one of those instances were AEon is developing the same program, but with a different name? (Again!)

No not quite.

Originally the notification system was provided by RingHIO a seperate program that worked by patching into the application.library.

Now there is a simple notification system builting to application.library with the idea that this may be replaced by a more fully featured solution should the user want to,

Notification Server ( based on the original RingHIO) is such a solution.

Application.libraries notification **should** be displaying images, if you are still running Notification Server ( check your WBStartup) and images etc have gone try deleteing your Notification preferences files and resaveing.

WRT to the aeon wave.datatype you may need the aeon sound.datatype for that to work, I didn't check but that may have been overwritten in the update.
