I don't agree same is true for Open Office / LibreOffice. Having functionality parity with Office 2003 plus DocX formats is enough, nothing useful got added to Word/Excel since then for home user. So it is not a moving target really. Apps like Hollywood offer different but actually more powerful system for presentations than Powerpoint does. Outlook is not useful. MUIBase with sqLite exists if you want Access type function.

Heck, I'm happy with running Office 4 for Mac via ShapeShifter...
