While making another video about some recent Amiga Book (called Amiga in Pixels, just about some stuff from the past), find out that for a first book mentions modern Amigas too, such as x1000, and for a second it shows some old well-known effects done on old Amigas and funny enough I use the same kind of effects from in form of Shaders from ShaderToy when doing test ShaderJoy :)

Probably will be funny to see how it looks like when effect in the book described stuff of 30 years ago, and the same effects on modern Amigas, just now in shaders :)
