Tested with fullscreen, and yeah, asl requester looks bad there, and, it looks like some missing flag in aql-requester or when screen mode created. I do not remember what flag it is, but something with "new" in the name if I remember correctly. Like "ASL_NewMode", or "SA_NewMode", do not remember now.

Also, ASL-requester seems not "non-blocking": if you move it around, it trashes all the background.
