First of all does the ethernet on the motherboard work? How do i install it? I think i read it somewhere that its working.

Yeah, it works, I use it all the time since AEON release driver for (in Enhancer if I remember right). Installation usual - copy driver where it should be, and then usual networks settings.

Is it better than Realtek PCI network card?

I didn't try PCI networks on my x5000, but onboard one works as expected and without issues (At least I didn't notice any)

What's the best graphic card for X5000 with the latest enhancer software?

Probably today some fast RadoenRX 560. It will have full support for Warp3DNova, have accelerated video playback, have partial support of old warp3d/minigl apps (via minigl4gl4es). Soon you can also use 570 and 580, for those ones there already a fix in the beta test, but when the fix will be released no one knows except Mattew, so RadeonRX 560 is a better choice now.
