I'm sure that Wayfarer is able to handle many millions sites I don't care if I can't see Disney it is more than enough to me, but you're right it takes already a lot of years to AEON to do not provide the A1222 or Libre Office better not distract them from this if we want to see this product in our lifetime. Oh I forgot Trevor should also release the source code of ASDG products given to him how many years does he needs?
