At least for hardware: With being a beta-tester, you get discounts on buying the hardware, I guess this is some sort of payment for your work.

E.g. For A1222, it is getting the motherboard 5-6 years before the release :)

I think we need a small but healthy market. So that maybe our small companies can even think of paying to beta-testers.

First 2-3 months of 2021 wasn't bad , we got OS4 updates, A-Eon updates. There should be some momentum to keep the interest alive.
