I haven't tried to burn a CD since installing OS4FE update1 on my system and have not yet installed update2 so I don't know yet if the above procedure will work with update2.

I fear you'll find that Update 2 contains a kernel with version number 54, which seems to be the number the author of AmiDVD decided would be too big to support (or whatever).

OTOH, you may find that the new p50x0sata.device in Update 2 has solved the issue with the ever changing CD device names.

Best regards,
