So what is needed is an option to tell OWB that you trust this site/certificate (as I have done in FireFox f.e.)?

Since adding it to curl-ca-bundle.crt doesn't help there must be more wrong with it, but it would be possible to disable the certificate verification like in AWeb and allow encrypted but insecure SSL connections.

I would have expected it would at least say something if this was the case.

Most errors are only printed in debug builds of OWB, not in release builds.
