Subject: : Gnash
Topic: : Gnash first impressions
Re: Gnash first impressions
Author: : Raziel
Date: : 2009/11/29 16:51:59
URL:

@afxgroup

edit: Nevermind, seeing now that it clearly caches the movies ... silly me

Andrea, i'm not sure, but could it be that the OS4 version of Gnash does not pre-read and pre-cache the movies? (At least i don't see something similar on the displays)
That would probably explain the lag and skipping in videos? (just for the sake of testing i tried to turn off pre-caching on a pc laptop and it started lagging and skipping like on the Amiga, so it might not be a problem in your port)
Would it be possible to add such a cache and let Gnash (by default) read and play the video from the (hd/ram-based) cache, instead of streaming he whole thing...

What do you think?

edit2: Going back from Fullscreen makes the sliders vanish